

AIAC CERTIFICATE IN ADJUDICATION

SAVE THE DATE!

26th MARCH – 2nd APRIL 2022

The AIAC Certificate in Adjudication is conducted by the AIAC as part of its role as the adjudication authority under the Construction Industry Payment and Adjudication Act 2012 ("CIPAA"). The AIAC Certificate in Adjudication is open to all individuals in the construction industry, whether legally trained or not legally trained, who are interested in serving as an adjudicator under the CIPAA in adjudicating payment claim disputes. Apart from training future adjudicators and providing them with the necessary skills to conduct an adjudication, this programme is equally suitable for those who are merely seeking more knowledge on construction adjudication and are not desirous of being qualified adjudicators. The AIAC Certificate in Adjudication is recognised by the CIPA Regulations as a necessary qualification to become an adjudicator under the CIPAA empanelled with the AIAC, subject further to the necessary qualifications of seven (7) years of working experience in relevant fields. The training is conducted over five (5) days by experts from the U4 construction industry and consists of these specialised units:
